... Strike

The U.S. Steel officials yesterday. While there is reported to be still some minor differences in opinion, these are not expected to delay a quick return to work by the steel men. It is significant, according to those in close enough touch with developments, that U.S. Steel has summoned the miners—back-to-work—in the corporation's Company-owned coal mines when it is generally known that U.S. Steel has about six months' supply of coal on hand. Unless the steel operations were slated to begin soon there would be little need for additional local supplies. It is pointed out that forecasts of a quick end of the U.S. Steel strike came following the order to the coal miners to return to work by John L. Lewis, mine union chief. Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., and Wheeling Steel have joined Bethlehem Steel in rejoining U.S. Steel and Inland Steel as the only important operations still on strike.

Marlene "Bunky" Quaglin, local high school graduate, will reign over the event as Miss Good Neighbor and will greet the many hundreds who will already be declared that they will attend the breakfast. But Marlene will not greet alone. Members of the Torrance Toastmasters, headed by Harry Burkholder, will act in the capacity of journeymen masters of ceremony. Rev. Clarence Miller, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be breakfast chairman.

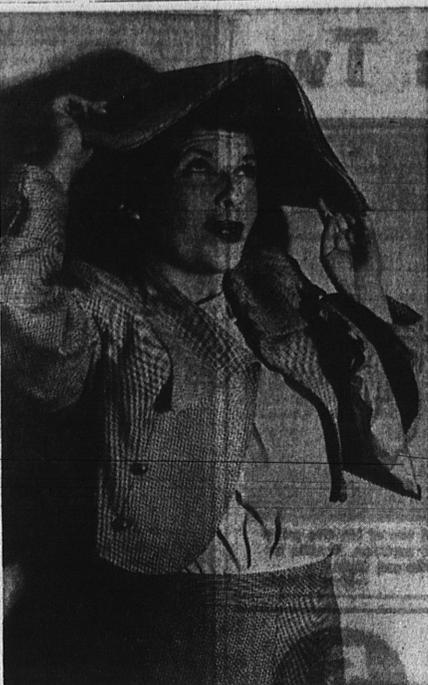

To add more sparkle to the event, local merchants will give away door prizes every half hour from the moment the first chow hound enters civic auditorium until the last napkin is tossed back on the table.

The City Council met last night to discuss the possibility of providing free bus transportation for folks who are attending the breakfast. Their decision was not known at press time.

In charge of Saturday's arrangements are Bill Tolson Sr., Al Turner, Gil Derouin, W. E. Bowen and A. L. Jackson.

Serving on committees for the affair are Bob Plomert Jr., Sam Levy, Paul Diamond, Herb Cohn, John Steinbaugh and Rollin Smith.

DOG'S BEST FRIEND . . . "Butch," pet police dog of five-year-old George Weisel, finds leading a kid's life has its advantages—especially as a way of beating last week's record heat wave for Torrance of 88 degrees.

Hottest Town Cooling Off

For those who like variety, Torrance weather during the past week was perfect. Friday, after a hot, humid week, it got even hotter. By noon the thermometer atop the Torrance Fire Station showed a blistering 98 degrees. For a brief interval, Torrance was the hottest spot in Southern California—probably the warmest in the country.

However, the heat streak snapped Monday while .02 inches of precipitation (easterners call it rain) moistened the streets. It precipitated again yesterday and the U.S. Weather Bureau says it will do it again all day today.

Postman With Flattest Feet Being Sought

The postman with the flattest feet is being sought to lead the Grand March of the Letter Carriers first annual ball at the Shrine Auditorium on November 10.

He will have the honor of dancing with the queen of the ball selected in a contest now being conducted.

As part of the national celebration of the 60th anniversary of the National Letter Carriers Association, the affair is being staged to raise funds for the association's local benevolent fund.

It is the first major dance ever sponsored by the men in gray who walk miles every day to deliver your mail.

Music and entertainment will be provided by Skinny Ennis and his orchestra, the singing Modernaires with Paula Kelly and many guest stars.

Air Pollution Officer Gets New Title

Chief Inspector Robert L. Chass of the County Air Pollution Control District today has a new title and new duties. He was named assistant director by Smog Control Chief Gordon P. Larson.

Chass, a graduate of Carnegie Tech with a Bachelor of Science degree in mechanical engineering, entered air pollution control work in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1941. During the war he was engaged in research work for the Army Ordnance department.

Coming to Los Angeles in 1946 Chass was employed as an engineer in the County's Office of Air Pollution Control, prior to creation of the present countywide District.

DIAL PHONES ULTIMATE GOAL FOR TORRANCITES

It's "Goodbye" to "Hello Girls" in the not too distant future, a telephone company official claimed this week.

According to manager A. B. Smith the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company is moving ahead with long range planning to provide "Torrance" exchange subscribers ultimately with dial services.

He said that when the non-dial equipment reaches its capacity of operation in the central office at 1266 Sartori avenue and when it becomes equitable and economically sound for both subscribers and the company a dial telephone system will be inaugurated for the Torrance Exchange.

The land for the construction of a new central office building designed to house automatic dial switching equipment has been purchased by the company at the southwest corner of Cravens and Engracia avenues. No dates have been established yet for the start of the construction of the building or for the cutover to dial service.

Smith also pointed out that Pacific Telephone has come a long way during the last four years to provide equipment and facilities for more Torrance telephones. He attributes the exceptional telephone growth since September, 1945, when there were 2,885 stations, to the large residential and business development here. During the last year alone, the company has added 312 new telephones for a total of 5,000 today. Held applications for new service now number 270.
